Subject: Announcing Fall 2021 Internship Applications for the U.S. Department of Energy Clean Cities University Workforce Development Program
Date: Friday, August 20, 2021 11:22:17 AM

Dear Professor, Student, or Academic Leader,

We are pleased to share the launch of the Fall 2021 term of the U.S. Department of Energy's Clean Cities University Workforce Development Program (CCUWDP). This fall, CCUWDP is offering 50 workforce development program positions across the nation and applications are now available. This is a wonderful opportunity for students looking to gain experience in the energy and transportation areas. Please pass this information along to anyone you know who may be interested in one of these positions. Applications can be found at <https://www.cvent.com/d/6mqznc> with more information below. Applications are due September 2, 2021. If you have any questions, please email cleancitiesintern@anl.gov.

Clean Cities University Workforce Development Program Fall 2021

The Clean Cities University Workforce Development Program is an initiative of Clean Cities, a government-industry partnership sponsored by the U.S. Department of Energy's Vehicle Technologies Program. Clean Cities strives to reduce petroleum consumption in the transportation sector in nearly 100 communities across the country. Since the creation of the CCUWDP in 2010, Clean Cities has hosted more than 500 interns in more than 75 Coalitions.

The Clean Cities internship will give students studying communications, public relations, business, marketing, engineering or environmental sciences, the opportunity to grow public awareness and expand the markets of advanced vehicle technologies, alternative fuels, and practices that reduce the consumption of petroleum. Students have participated in research, outreach activities, public education, K-12 outreach, fleet events, and a vast array of transportation-related environmental projects.
